

Curriculum vitae

Prof. Dr. Jens Brockmeyer University Stuttgart

Analytical Food Chemistry
Allmandring 5b,
70569 Stuttgart, Germany

Education and Professional Experience

- 1997-2002 Study of Food Chemistry, University of Münster
- 2002-2003 Second state examination in Food Chemistry
- 2004 Research associate, Institute for Legal Medicine, University of Bonn
- 2005-2009 Graduation to Ph.D. in Food Chemistry, University of Münster (“summa cum laude”) Thesis: “Structure and function of the plasmid- encoded bacterial serine protease autotransporter EspP from Shiga toxin-producing Escherichia coli”.
- 2009 Postdoctoral research, Institute for Hygiene, University Clinics of Münster
- 01/10-03/16 Group leader Food proteomics and Allergenomics , Institute for Food Chemistry, Münster
- since 04/16 Professor for Analytical Food Chemistry, University of Stuttgart

Honors and Awards

- 2004 Poster prize of the German society for Legal Medicine (DGR)
- 2007-2010 Member of the Network of Excellence “EuroPathoGenomics”
- 2009 PhD thesis prize of the German Society for Hygiene and Medical Microbiology (DGHM)
- 2009 “Summa cum laude award” of the University of Münster
- 2010 Joseph Schormüller-Fellowship of the German Society of Food Chemistry (LChG) in the GDCH
- 2014 Kurt-Täufel-Prize of the German Society of Food Chemistry (LChG) in the GDCH