Shanghai—the perfect location for world-class trade fairs

Embark into the market of the future with analytica China at the perfect location: the greater Shanghai area. Shanghai is the key to the Chinese analysis industry. And analytica China is the key to Shanghai.

Shanghai New International Trade Fair Centre, SNIEC

Built by the Shanghai Pudong Land Development Corporation and three of Germany's largest trade-fair companies—Munich, Hannover and Duesseldorf—the Shanghai New International Expo Centre has all the facilities and services of a modern trade-fair center. At SNIEC, you can expect to experience world-class standards.

Easy to reach

- ✓ By metro rapid train: SNIEC is directly connected to Pudong Int'l Airport via the newly built transrapid railway. The downtown station is the Long Yang Road metro station, just 600 m from SNIEC.
- ✓ By underground: just 23 minutes from the city center.
- ✓ By car from the city center: the Expo Centre is located at the intersection of two ring roads that lead from the center of Shanghai over the Nan Pu Bridge and through Pudong.
